

Belton Update 11th October 2019

I can't believe we have arrived at half term! It has gone so quickly! So many things have happened over the half term to be celebrated including Macmillan, Roald Dahl day, school trips and sporting events to name a few but I must say that I have never been prouder of the children wearing yellow, enjoying our mental health day activities. Their attitude to learning, listening and behaviour was amazing! Thank you to all the staff who made it a really special day. Any more donations for the Young Minds Mental Health Trust and for our chill out space in the hall can be given in via the school office.

It has been wonderful to see so many parents supporting school and school events, whether it be for Macmillan, Harvest, volunteering or taking clubs. I would also like to thank the children, parents and staff for making me feel so welcome during my first half term as headteacher. Thank you all for your support.

Parents' evenings

I hope you found parents evening useful and that you liked the addition of the short report. If the class teacher did not give you a copy you will find one in your child's book bag soon.

Next half term

The Sea Otters are off on their adventures to Kingswood! It's a great trip with lots of super adventures planned! We can't wait to hear all about it!

Sea Otters will also start their school swimming lessons. Lions and Owls will go for a 6 week block later on in the year.

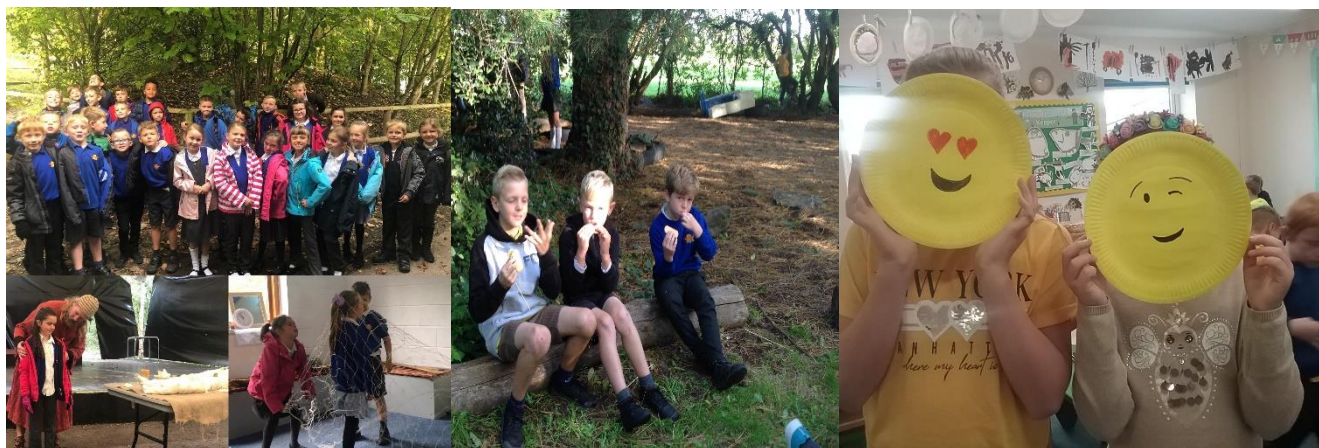

Weduc

Some parents have mentioned they don't seem to be getting notifications- if you go onto the app via your settings you can check whether you have enabled notifications or not. If you are unsure pop into the school office and we can have a look!

Have a great half-term.

We look forward to welcoming the children back to school on: Tuesday 22nd October
